GaGa & West Battle It Out

Irving, TX (September 28, 2009) – Appearing on the "Kidd Kraddick in the Morning" show this morning, Lady GaGa told Kraddick "I'm super excited! Never before has there been a stage like this, it's enormous. It's a traverse, a giant runway from one side of the arena to the other.

"It's too bad you couldn't find someone to tour with that had a higher profile." Kraddick said jokingly to GaGa, referring to stage partner, Kanye West.

"You know Kanye has always been someone that I have really admired," she replied. "When he called me up to do this tour I thought he was calling me to open up for him and I said no." West phoned GaGa back with his innovative tour concept—that she wouldn't be his opening act; they would be on the stage at the same time. GaGa said "It was pretty innovative. The story of the show is that I am on one side of the stage and he is on the other and I am trying to get to his side and he's trying to get to mine. We battle each other the entire show."

Kraddick asked if the tour bus had a "Real Housewives of New Jersey" vibe as he had heard. Gaga replied, "My bus is kind of Guido actually...if you can imagine Marissa Tomey having a tour bus during the filming of My Cousin Vinny, then you've got it. That's kind of who I am."

The entire 20 minute interview is available on the show's website, <http://kiddnation.com>
